

r2U.8S200-000Se2UA 7\r

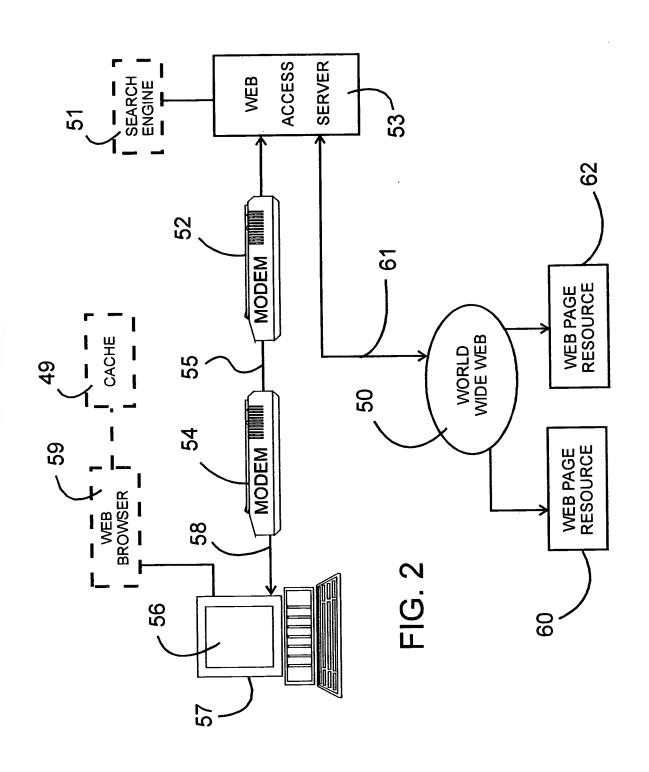

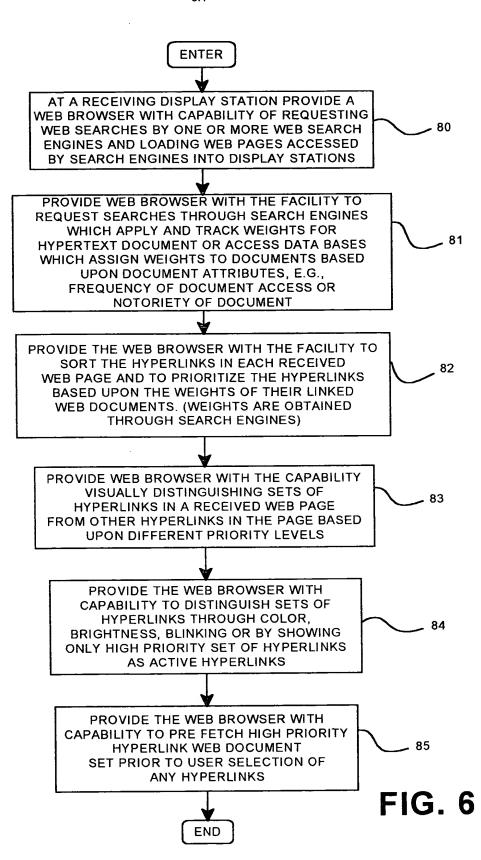

FIG. 3

File Edit View Go Bookmarks Options Directory Window Help	Address: http://encr.syn.edu/Projects/Newton/13/lessons/dolcom.html	you communicate about? 2. If you could speak dolphin language, what questions would questions would you ask? Key Words 71 71	body language use of facial expressions, postute gestures, and other nonverbal communication conditioned response first demonstrated by Ivan Pavlov, a Russian scientist. Dogs heard a bell when fed, teaching them to associate food with the sound of a bell. Eventually the dogs' response to the bell was to salivate in anticipation of food. Echolocation bouncing sound off objects to provide information about size, location, and movement of those objects Inequency the number of cycles or complete "waves" (sound, radio) per unit of time information of sound that humans are unable to hear vocalization formation of sounds
		(-	12 (12

FG. 4

s would you ask? onverbal communication antist. Dogs heard a bell entually the dogs' response to ize, location, and unit of time 76							$\overline{}$
File Edit View Go Bookmarks Options Directory Window Help File Edit View Go Bookmarks Options Directory Window Help Address: http://encr.syn.edu/Projects/Newton/13/lessons/dolcom.html You communicate about? 2. If you could speak dolphin language, what questions would questions would you ask? Key Words body language use of facial expressions, posture gestures, and other nonverbal communicationed response first demonstrated by Ivan Pavlov, a Russian scientist. Dogs hean when fed, leaching them to associate food with the sound of a bell. Eventually the dogs' when fed, leaching them an associate food with the sound of a bell. Eventually the dogs' the bell was to salivate in anticipation of food. Echolocation bouncing sound off objects to provide information about size, location, and movement of those objects frequency the number of cycles or complete "waves" (sound, radio) per unit of time 73 Jitasound high frequency sound that humans are unable to hear vocalization formation of sounds	Edit View Go Bookmarks Options Directory Window	http://encr.syn.edu/		2. If you could speak dolphin language, what questions would questions would you ask? Key Words	body language use of facial expressions, posture gestures, and other nonverbal communication conditioned response first demonstrated by Ivan Pavlov, a Russian scientist. Dogs heard a bell when fed, teaching them to associate food with the sound of a bell. Eventually the dogs' response to the bell was to salivate in anticipaton of food.	echolocation bouncing sound off objects to provide information about size, location, a movement of those objects frequency the number of cycles or complete "waves" "sound, radio) per unit of time ultrasound high frequency sound that humans are unable to hear vocalization formation of sounds

FIG. 5

1

Ħ

==|

.-,2

